

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to combinations of (a) an ATP-competitive inhibitor of c-abl kinase activity with (b) two or more other antineoplastic agents for simultaneous, separate or sequential use, in particular for the delay of progression or treatment of a proliferative disease.